

MYSTERY IN DEATH OF COLUMBIA BOY FOUND IN THE BAY

Student Who Disappeared
Christmas Eve May Have Been Foul Play Victim.

At the request of relatives of Ralph Wilson Broderick, the Columbia student who disappeared on last Christmas Eve and whose body was found yesterday in the harbor near the Statue of Liberty, the police and Columbia authorities are co-operating to throw some light on the mystery of his death. The boy was to have visited his parents in Boston, where his father is an eye, ear and nose specialist, and left his lodgings at No. 540 West 123d Street on Saturday night, Dec. 24, to see about a train. He never was heard of again.

Shortly after his disappearance his father came to the city and an exhaustive search was made for him. Dr. Broderick said that the boy could have had no reason for suicide, as he was supplied with all the money he needed. At his former address here it was said that he was a clean living lad, fond of his studies and of reading and had no close companions. A bankbook showed that he had money in bank.

It has been learned that young Broderick was dealing in Wall Street and in Boston stocks, but whether he lost or won has not been ascertained. Shortly before his disappearance he received a wire from his mother, it was said at the 123d Street house, asking him why she had not heard from him and inviting him home to spend the holidays in Boston.

During the war Broderick was an ensign in the navy and was always fond of the water and frequently visited the ships in the harbor.

GARAGE IS DWELLING IF IT HAS MATTRESS

This Is Ruling of White Plains Judge.

A dwelling is a dwelling if it only has a mattress in it, despite the character of the building, ruled Justice Morchauer in the Supreme Court at White Plains today when John Vincent of Ossining complained that Michael Horvath, his neighbor, violated a real estate agreement.

Vincent built a regular house as required by the deed. Horvath built a garage and claimed they only "camped" there while laying out a garden. To prove this they set up a huge sign reading: "Five two-family houses to be erected here for colored people." Justice Morchauer granted an injunction restraining the couple from living in the garage. Horvath said he would buy a tent.

SHERIFF IS UNABLE TO FIND SEMENOFF

Official Wanted to Notify General That He Must Get New Bond.

Deputy Sheriff John P. Murphy made a fruitless trip today to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel to notify Gen. Gregorie Semenoff, anti-Bolshevik leader, who was arrested on a judgment amounting to $478,578 that his bondsmen—the Fidelity and Deposit Company of Maryland—had determined to surrender him, and to escort him to Ludlow Street Jail unless he was able to furnish another satisfactory surety in the sum of $25,000.

Semenoff was not at the hotel, where he is stopping during his sojourn in this city on his way to Paris, and after waiting for an hour the Deputy Sheriff returned to his office to await further opportunity to attach the person of the judgment debtor.

HELD FOR EXTRADITION TO PITTSBURGH

At the request of the Chief of Police of Pittsburgh, Harold W. Vaughan, thirty-two, was arrested and is being held today for extradition on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged that as William H. Horne of Philadelphia he sold certificates for sixty shares of the Motor Mortgage Company of Pittsburgh to a brokerage firm, Wright & Co., of that city, for $2,475. The certificates, it is claimed, were bogus. Vaughan is said to have denied knowing the worthless character of the certificates.

Dandruffy Heads Become Hairless

If you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't.

It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.—Advt.
